Suggested AID Lecture Series on Counter-Insurgency Training for Current SAIS Class

Attached is a suggested syllabus offering six hours of counter-insurgency training to supplement the developmental and programming training being presently received by 23 AID officers under the SAIS contract.

The syllabus is designed to provide the class with a direct acquaintance with basic national security policy as it appertains to U.S. internal defense objectives, as well as with the U.S. overseas internal defense doctrine and the history and background of Communist strategy and tactics to exploit the weaknesses of the modernization process. Suggestions of changes or additional lectures would be welcome since time for them would be available on the three afternoons provided by SAIS authorities to run this series.

Following concurrence, I will seek to enlist the services of the proposed lecturers.
